

Remembrance Day

Soldiers died
Fighting in war
Families left
Sad and alone

By Ugne Sertvytyte

All soldiers in smart uniforms
Standing at the war memorial Laying poppy wreaths
Feeling sad
Feeling upset
Wounded hearts
Never forget

By Lewis Bruin

Gold medals put a glint in your eye
But they stand tall when their friends pass by
As time passes the distant guns firing ever so terrifying
Bombers fly by some where shot out the sky
But those who are gone live on because they are not truly forgotten

Men wearing poppies on their coats

Feeling sad

Feeling proud

Medals on their hearts

All together our country thinks and remembers

By Liam Davidson

All the soldiers who passed away
We think of them all every day
We imagine them all in smart uniforms
And growing old with a proud face
We continue to visit them at their graves

Remembering soldiers
Feeling proud
Laying poppies
For all to see

Retelling the story for all to hear

Remembering soldiers

Fought in war

Feeling sad

Nothing more

Goosebumps

Flashbacks

Families left behind

Red poppies

In the fields

By Sophie Willcox

Soldiers with medals Standing still Thinking of friends
Feeling sad
On your own

Soldiers march Altogether
Thinking of families
Left at home

Red poppies
Growing
In the field
Standing tall
We miss you

By Cameron Jeffrey

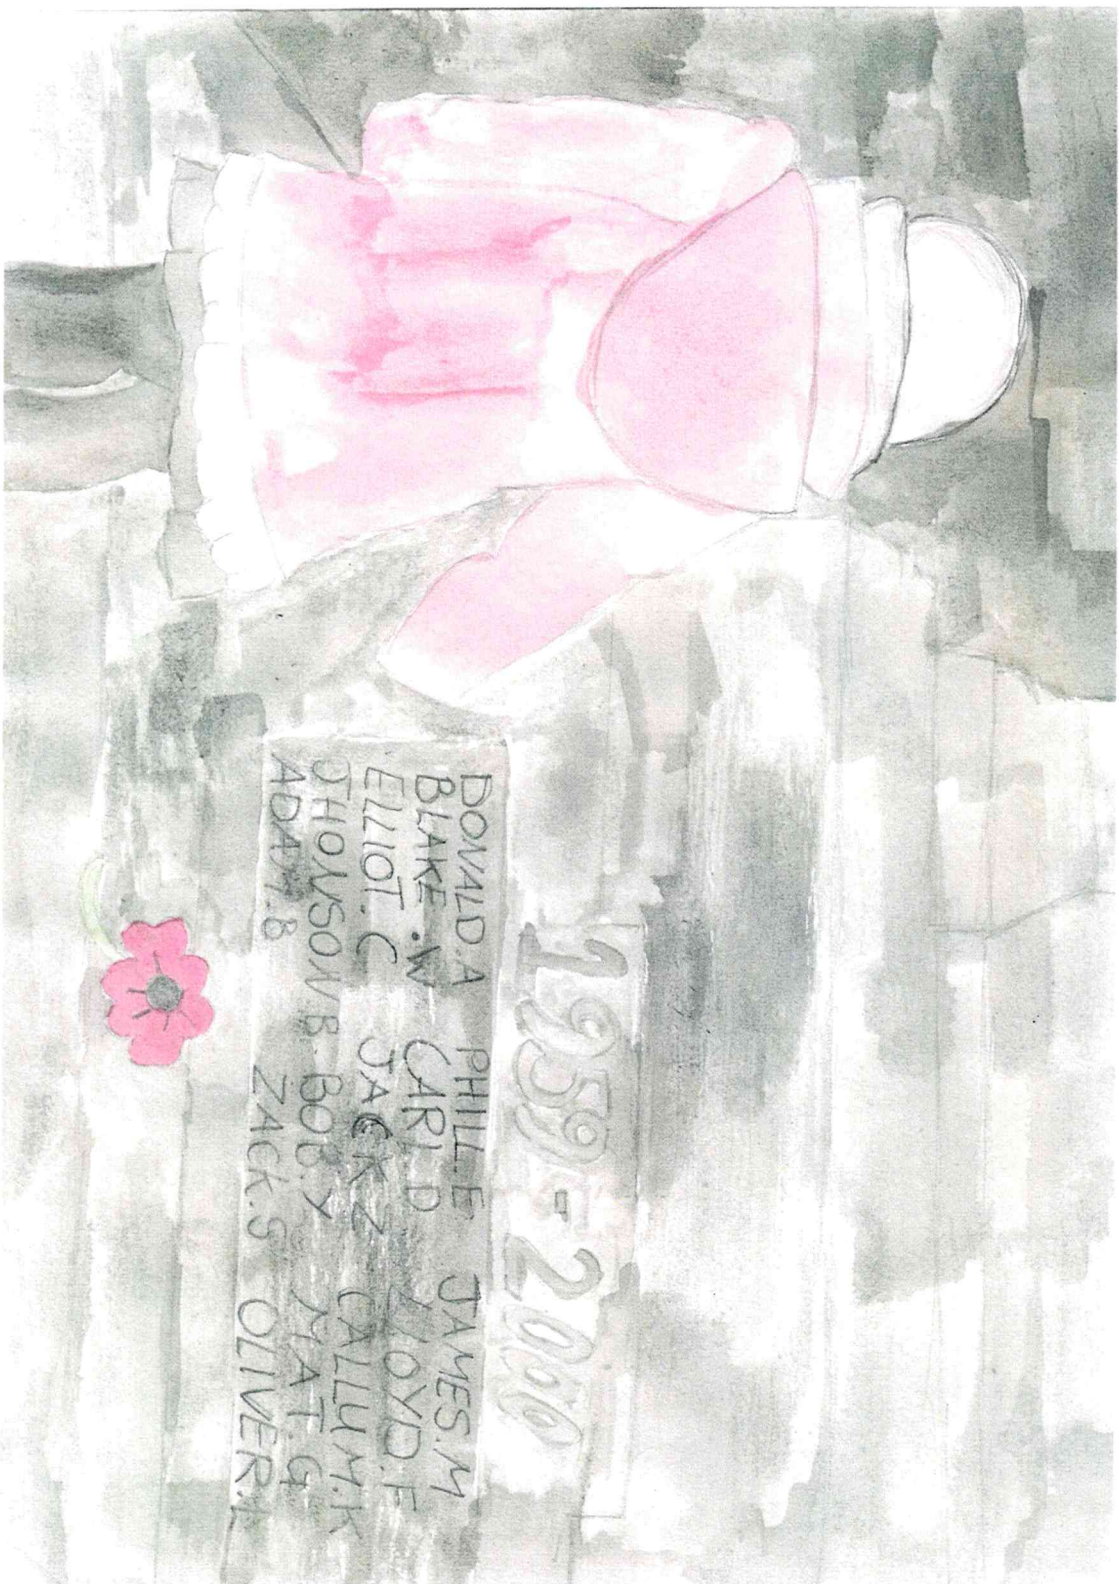

Bloody and shot
Poppies grow
We remember
Soldiers in the war

By Jordan Telford

As I stand in the field victorious and proud
The poppies are red and the sky is grey Killing people and giving no mercy
Thankful that the war has ended Flashbacks flashing by Remembering the sacrifices that were made
Soldiers marching bold and brave Feeling sad but also pretty glad
